About ACF:

Known as “the authority on cooking in America,” the American Culinary Federation (ACF) represents more than 14,000 members in 170 chapters across the United States. It is the ACF’s mission to make a positive difference for culinarians through education, apprenticeship and certification, while creating a fraternal bond of respect and integrity among culinarians everywhere.

Preamble:

The ACF developed the following Code of Ethics to provide guidance to professional cooks and chefs in their professional practice and conduct. The actions, behaviors and attitudes of our members are consistent with the ACF commitment to hospitality, foodservice and public service. This Code of Ethics sets forth the fundamental principles and is considered essential to this purpose. Every individual who is a paid member and/or certified by the ACF shall abide by this Code of Ethics. Any action that violates the purpose and principles outlined by the Code of Ethics shall be considered unethical.

Basic Beliefs:

We recognize the importance of the following beliefs that guide our practice and provide context for our ethics:

- The services we provide contribute to the health and well-being of society.
- Professional cooking careers are an essential component of overall hospitality and foodservice and we function interdependently with other hospitality providers.
- All people should have access to quality hospitality and food services.
- We are individually responsible for our actions and the quality of professional services that we provide.

Code of Ethics:

As a member of the ACF, I pledge myself to:

- Conduct myself with honesty, integrity and fairness.
- Strive to provide all services competently.
- Provide professional service in a manner that does not discriminate others on the basis of race, ethnicity, creed, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation or national origin.
- Not engage in sexual harassment, disrespectful or abusing behavior.
- Show professional respect for all who work with or in supervision with myself.
- Strive to provide objective evaluations of performance for employees and coworkers, apprentices, students, professional association members and/or peers and to avoid bias in any kind of professional evaluation of others.
- Be alert to situations that might cause a conflict of interest or have the appearance of a conflict and provides full disclosure when a real or potential conflict of interest arises.
- Not to promote or endorse products in a manner that is false or misleading.
- Not engage in substance abuse that could adversely affect my job performance or endanger co-workers.
- Strive to comply with all applicable laws and regulations concerning the culinary profession including local, state and federal statutes that promote public health and safety.
- Collaborate with others to create a work environment that minimizes risk to the personal health and safety of our colleagues.
- Support the efforts of other professional cooks and chefs to learn new and innovative culinary techniques and improve my knowledge and skills.
